Rutgers University

Support the transfer of knowledge from research to practice through training, technical assistance, consultation, and resource dissemination.

Who We Serve

The Northeast & Caribbean MHTTC serves New York, New Jersey, Puerto Rico, and the US Virgin Islands, providing training, technical assistance, and resource dissemination to support and enhance the mental health workforce.

Under the direction of co-directors, Dr. Ken Gill and Dr. Ann Murphy, the MHTTC develops targeted activities to address the needs of the mental health workforce, utilizing implementation science to inform training and technical assistance activities at varying levels of intensity.

Our Services

FREE targeted face-to-face and online trainings, intensive train-the-trainer programs, technical assistance/consultation, and resource dissemination

Accelerate the adoption and implementation of evidence-based practices from prevention through treatment and recovery.

Ensure the availability of high quality training and technical assistance to those in the mental health field free of charge.

Enhance awareness, knowledge, and skills of the behavioral health workforce.

Foster regional and national alliances among diverse stakeholder groups.
